Dear Chapter Presidents,

The Office of Greek Affairs would like to welcome you all back to another academic year. We hope that your summer break was relaxing and satisfying.

As we enter this fall semester we would like to send a few reminders to ensure our recognized chapters remain in good standing in order to have a successful and productive year.

1. Please make sure your chapter membership is focusing on their academic endeavors.
2. Please continue to check your Rowan email to ensure you receive updated correspondence from the Office of Greek Affairs.
3. Please make every attempt to follow your national risk management guidelines, local ordinances, and University policies.
4. Please remember to be respectful to our neighbors, community members and local authorities. Poor decision making and behavioral choices will not be tolerated by the University and the Glassboro community.
   - When hosting events off campus, please ensure your members and guests are respectful of neighbors’ property.
   - Be mindful of noise levels inside of the property and outside.
   - Be responsive to the directives of University and local officials.

Over the next few months, the Greek community will be welcoming several new organizations to campus. In order to properly welcome these groups to the University, we would like to ensure that the existing members of the Rowan University Greek community represent their organization’s espoused values and philosophies.

Please do not hesitate to contact the Office of Greek Affairs with any questions or concerns. It is our intent to maintain a healthy and responsible Greek community at Rowan University. Your efforts as undergraduate leaders are critical for the success of Rowan University.
Regards,

Kelvin Rodriguez
