

ROWAN

School of Communication
Office of the Dean
(609) 256-1340
Fax: (609) 256-1344

College Writing

TO: Carol Matteson, Executive Vice President/Provost
FROM: Toni Libro, ¹¹Dean, College of Communication
DATE: October 23, 1997
RE: Termination of
Improving Personal Writing Skills A

As you know, the previous A and B level designations for Improving Personal Writing Skills have been abolished.

Implementation of the name change has now moved through to the Registrar's Office and once this paperwork is processed, all students who need remedial work in writing will find the course Improving Personal Writing Skills only, without an A or a B next to it, for Fall 1998.

I thought you might like to see the final memo regarding this change of name, in keeping with the fact that the two-tier remedial system was abolished last year, when we dropped the A from the name and had all students register for IPWS B.

*10/27/97
Toni Libro
The University Senate Committee*

Enclosure

Memo
from
JANICE ROWAN
Chair, College Writing Department, School of Communication

RECEIVED

OCT 20 1997

SCHOOL OF COMMUNICATION
OFFICE OF THE DEAN

Date: October 17, 1997

To: Fran Woods, Registrar's Office

From: Janice Rowan

Re: Termination of Improving Personal Writing Skills A

The summer of 1997 was the last semester that the College Writing Department offered IPWS A. Students who would have placed in that course will now enroll in IPWS B.

The course name will be changed for fall 1998 to just IPWS (without the A and B designations).

Dean's Approval

Dean Antoinette Libro

cc: A. Libro, E. Clark, O. Williams, J. Bouson, I. Gundaker

Bozorth Hall, Rowan University, Glassboro, NJ 08028
609-256-4096, rowan@elan.rowan.edu