

New Jersey ACE Network Spring 2007 Conference and Luncheon

Developing Strategic Partnerships for Personal and Institutional Advancement

Partnerships are critical in the workplace in order to work effectively, develop synergies, create and implement strategies, while reaching for what may seem the impossible dream. Establishing compatibility, relationship building, fostering trust, and making productive changes together are essential aspects of successful partnerships. Working in and through partnerships provides a vehicle for networking through which many find new positions and careers. Join us to hear about partnerships from successful women leaders and to talk with them and your peers about your own experiences and challenges.

Please bring business cards for networking opportunities!
