LETTERS OF SUPPORT

FROM

GLASSBORO COLLEGE PROFESSORS
April 19, 1979

Dr. Dickinson Gardiner
Chairman
Senate Curriculum Committee
Robinson Building
Glassboro State College
Glassboro, New Jersey 08028

Dear Dr. Gardiner:

I wish to recommend, indeed urge, the approval and adoption of the document entitled Curriculum Proposal for Certificate of Advanced Study: Elementary Social Studies Education. Dr. Brannan, Professor Anderson, and Dr. Zimmerman have consulted with this department on the geography section specifically as well as the proposal itself in general terms. We are in unanimous agreement on the need for such a program. It is sorely needed in the light of the often outmoded texts and programs so commonly in use in New Jersey elementary schools.

Dr. Brannan and Professor Anderson are both extremely interested in updating the materials and methods used in the elementary schools. Professor Anderson has had excellent (and current) training in the field. He is thoroughly familiar with new trends, techniques, research and teaching methods associated with the field. He is bright, qualified and enthusiastic. I am convinced that he can not only handle the material, but will also impart enthusiasm for the field to his students.

I anticipate no conflict. While we share the ideas of the field of geography, the basic emphasis of this program (geography section) are the teaching methods that can be used in the elementary classroom and the development of strategies, programs and exercises suited to the elementary level. Students entering this course should have some prior geographic training, as indicated in the proposal, in order to obtain the maximum benefit.

The geography section, as designed, covers many of the areas of recent innovation in the field. Professor Anderson's outline allows for coverage of both the traditional and the current, - a necessary step. He ambitiously includes simulations and models in his approach; he deals with (and integrates) both the cultural and physical environments. He has demonstrated a considerable knowledge of the field as well as an outstanding knowledge of curriculum materials and current college level texts.
We are quite pleased with the efforts of all concerned. Consultations were not limited to eliminating potential conflict; they encompassed the full range of knowledge sharing and a strong, basic consensus on the aims and content.

Dr. Brannan gave very generously of her time and talents in this preparation. She consulted with members of this department by phone, in correspondence and in person. The hours of consultancy involved are more easily described in "days." This is evidence of her academic concern, her strong commitment to the program, and her extremely cooperative manner.

The anthropology section has been explored and consultancy continues. Dr. Kasserman and Professor Edwards have agreed to the basic aims, and content is now undergoing active discussion. I anticipate that the anthropology section will be completed by fall 1979.

We have been extremely favorably impressed by the committee members, their attitudes and knowledge, their sincerity and their capability. We strongly urge the adoption of this proposal, recommending it to you with our complete approval. The updating of social studies in the public schools is a pressing need. This proposed program will train future generations to that task admirably.

Sincerely yours,

[Signature]
Chester K. Zimolzak
Chairman
Department of Geography/Anthropology

CEZ/jb
April 19, 1979

Dr. Mario Teso, Chairman
Divisional Review Committee
Professional Studies
Robinson Building
Glassboro State College
Glassboro, New Jersey 08028

Dear Dr. Teso:

I wish to recommend, indeed urge, the approval and adoption of the document entitled Curriculum Proposal for Certificate of Advanced Study: Elementary Social Studies Education. Dr. Braman, Professor Anderson, and Dr. Zimmerman have consulted with this department on the geography section specifically as well as the proposal itself in general terms. We are in unanimous agreement on the need for such a program. It is sorely needed in the light of the often outmoded texts and programs so commonly in use in New Jersey elementary schools.

Dr. Braman and Professor Anderson are both extremely interested in updating the materials and methods used in the elementary schools. Professor Anderson has had excellent (and current) training in the field. He is thoroughly familiar with new trends, techniques, research and teaching methods associated with the field. He is bright, qualified and enthusiastic. I am convinced that he can not only handle the material, but will also impart enthusiasm for the field to his students.

I anticipate no conflict. While we share the ideas of the field of geography, the basic emphasis of this program (geography section) are the teaching methods that can be used in the elementary classroom and the development of strategies, programs and exercises suited to the elementary level. Students entering this course should have some prior geographic training, as indicated in the proposal, in order to obtain the maximum benefit.

The geography section, as designed, covers many of the areas of recent innovation in the field. Professor Anderson's outline allows for coverage of both the traditional and the current, - a necessary step. He ambitiously includes simulations and models in his approach; he deals with (and integrates) both the cultural and physical environments. He has demonstrated a considerable knowledge of the field as well as an outstanding knowledge of curriculum materials and current college level texts.
We are quite pleased with the efforts of all concerned. Consultations were not limited to eliminating potential conflict; they encompassed the full range of knowledge sharing and a strong, basic consensus on the aims and content.

Dr. Brannon gave very generously of her time and talents in this preparation. She consulted with members of this department by phone, in correspondence and in person. The hours of consultancy involved are more easily described in "days." This is evidence of her academic concern, her strong commitment to the program, and her extremely cooperative manner.

The anthropology section has been explored and consultancy continues. Dr. Kaserman and Professor Edwards have agreed to the basic aims, and content is now undergoing active discussion. I anticipate that the anthropology section will be completed by fall 1979.

We have been extremely favorably impressed by the committee members, their attitudes and knowledge, their sincerity and their capability. We strongly urge the adoption of this proposal, recommending it to you with our complete approval. The updating of social studies in the public schools is a pressing need. This proposed program will train future generations to that task admirably.

Sincerely yours,

[Signature]

Chester E. Zimolzak
Chairman
Department of Geography/Anthropology

CEZ/jb
May 4, 1979

Dr. Ethel Brannan
Elem. Ed. Dept.
Robinson Building

Dear Dr. Brannan:

I see this course as enhancing the total graduate offering in the department. It will meet the needs of graduates who wish to become more effective in presenting knowledges and skills in economics for elementary school children.

Sincerely,

Randall S. Robinson
Graduate Advisor
Elementary Education Dept.

RSR/emb
May 9, 1979

TO: Dick Gardner, Chairman
Faculty Senate Curriculum Committee

FROM: R. D. Zahn, Professor
Foundations of Education Department

SUBJECT: COURSE TITLE: GLOBAL PERCEPTIONS IN ELEMENTARY SCHOOL SOCIAL STUDIES

I have examined the course proposal. It seems to me that the rationale is defensible and the objectives sensible.

R.D./ch
April 19, 1979

Dr. Ethel Brannan
Professor of Elementary Education
Robinson Academic Building
Campus

Dear Dr. Brannan:

As a member of the Department of Political Science/Economics I strongly endorse the course proposal, "Using the Concepts/Process Skills of Economics in the Teaching of Elementary Social Studies." This course compliments the Economics program at Glassboro State College and should be considered essential.

I would be glad to answer further particular questions pertaining to the importance of this course to the Economics program at Glassboro State College.

Very truly yours,

Benjamin G. Hitchner
Assistant Professor
April 19, 1979

College Curriculum Committee
Senate Faculty Office
Sawits Library

Dear Committee Members:

This letter strongly supports the course proposal, "Using The Concepts/Process Skills Of Economics In The Teaching Of Elementary Social Studies." As Director of the Center For Economic Education I speak with knowledge that many courses similar to the proposed course are being adopted by teacher training institutions throughout the country. Those courses fulfill a need of in-service teachers, that is, for more economics training. Elementary teachers are increasingly called upon to teach and include economics in the elementary curriculum. Economic literacy is as important as literacy in reading and mathematics. Similar to quest for reading and mathematics literacy, economic literacy must begin early in the elementary grades. The Elementary Education Department and, Dr. Brannan in particular are to be complimented for their concern in behalf of Economics Education.

Very truly,

[Signature]

Benjamin Hitchner, Director

BH/pj
April 30, 1979

Dr. Ethel Brannan
Elementary Education Department
Robinson Building

Dear Dr. Brannan:

I hereby endorse the course entitled "Using the Concepts/Process Skills of Economics in Teaching Elementary Social Studies".

Sincerely,

Robert Becker, Ph.D., Chairperson
Department of Political Science/Economics

RB:rw
State of New Jersey
GLASSBORO STATE COLLEGE
GLASSBORO, NEW JERSEY 08028

May 9, 1979

Dr. Betty Brannan
Curriculum and Instruction/Elementary/
   Early Childhood Education
Glassboro, New Jersey  08028

Dear Dr. Brannan:

Re: Course Proposal

The Educational Administration Department recommends the approval of the course Research Seminar in Elementary Social Studies Education. The department has studied the course proposal and has indicated that it will serve a useful purpose.

Since the Educational Research component of graduate programs are housed in the Educational Administration Department, our concerns about certain aspects of the course was alleviated by changes in original proposal. These concerns were:

1. that there will be consultation with our department on faculty assignments to teach this course
2. that the course not duplicate the course taught by this department called Procedures and Evaluation in Research.

We recommend this course acceptance.

Sincerely,

Maurice G. Verbeke, Chairman
Educational Administration Department

MGV: nmlk
Dr. Ethel Brennan
Elementary Education

Dear Dr. Brennan:

The course: Research Seminar in Elementary Social Studies is a very constructive step towards helping teachers to incorporate research materials in their background studies either for a certificate of Advanced Study in Elementary Social Studies or for a Masters Degree in Elementary Education. It should prove of advantage for teachers in meeting the increased emphasis which is being placed on Social Studies and Global Studies in the curriculum.

The seminar approach seems highly desirable and appropriate for the course content. I would strongly support this development in the curriculum of Social Studies.

Sincerely,

Ethel M. Adams
Professor, Psychology Department
MEMO
Gladsboro State College
PSYCHOLOGY DEPARTMENT

TO: Dr. Betty Abraham
FROM: Dr. Howard Lommey
SUBJECT: Research Seminar in Child and Social Studies Education
DATE: May 7, 1973

After reviewing this course proposal, I find that it very promising without any reservations whatever its inclusion into the Curriculum pattern for the Certificate of Advanced Study in Child Studies.

In view of the current emphasis on accountability, respect to the importance of (powered?) grants to financial stability, I believe that this new and unique course will be a most important addition to our college. The course's emphasis on literature review and field research along with more formal methods is a well-balanced one. The practical experience in preparing a research proposal is of great value. Its place in our curriculum can not be understated.

I see that the Department has a well-qualified and well-qualified staff, these continue will be no problem in staffing this course. Our faculty is more than adequate. In short, without further reservations, we can add a very much needed and valuable course to our offerings.
MEMO
Glenelg State College
PSYCHOLOGY DEPARTMENT

TO: ____________________________________________

FROM: ____________________________________________

RE: ____________________________________________

DATE: ____________________________________________

If our purpose is to remain viable, it must be able to modify its course. This is an important need as expressed by teachers and administrators for improved knowledge and skill in teaching social studies. The major benefit of teachers are teaching. This means that every bit of energy expended must be as productive as possible. This work will allow the development of new methods of teaching.

I urge the adoption of this course in the near future.