A Proposal to change the name of the course, Field Experiences in Health and Physical Education (Hegis # 0837.483), to Senior Field Experience in Health Promotion and Fitness Management

Sponsored by: Drs. Leslie Spencer and Francie Pagell

Change Requested:

We are requesting that the name of Course # 0837.483 be changed from “Field Experience in Health and Physical Education” to “Field Experience in Health Promotion and Fitness Management”.

Details:

Course #0837.483 is incorrectly identified in each semester’s course schedule as Field Experience in Health and Physical Education. Field Experience in Health Promotion and Fitness Management is the appropriate title for Course # 0837.483 because the course is only taken by Health and Exercise Science majors who are in the Health Promotion and Fitness Management Specialization. While the two specializations are related and in the same department, they are different academic areas. Health and Physical Education prepares students for teaching in public schools. Health Promotion and Fitness Management prepares students to work with both adults and children in public health programs, hospitals, corporate wellness centers and other community-based programs.

Rationale:

Presently in each semester’s course schedule, course # 0837.483 is incorrectly designated as Field Experience in Health and Physical Education. This has caused considerable confusion for many of our students as they attempted to register for their internships in Health Promotion and Fitness Management. This proposal is an effort to eliminate this problem.

Curriculum Effect:

This change will make it easier for students in the Health Promotion and Fitness Management Specialization to identify the appropriate course for which to register. It will have no other impact on any other specialization or major.
