Minor Curricular Change

Change in Prerequisites

1. Details

a. Change Requested:

Remove Quantitative Methods for Business Decision Making (0507.500) and Managerial Finance (0504.500) as a prerequisite for MBA Elective course Strategic Planning for Operating Managers (0506.601).

Add Integrative Managerial Skills (0501.518) as a prerequisite for this course.

Sponsors: Robert Fleming and Dilip Mirchandani, Management

2. Rationale:

Statements of Need:

The Management Faculty believe sufficient quantitative and financial skills are derived from the MBA foundation courses, namely Statistics I, Calculus Techniques and Applications, and Principles of Finance as well as the first MBA course – Integrative Managerial Skills. The Quantitative Methods for Business Decision Making course is no longer a required course in the College of Business MBA curriculum.

Statements of Curricular Effect:

Reducing the number of prerequisite courses will make it much more feasible for students to choose the elective course Strategic Planning for Operating Managers.
