

Laptop Computers in the Classroom

The use of laptop or notebook microcomputers during class sessions is permitted, except that the use of this equipment for purposes of audio recording may occur only with the prior approval of the instructor. Also, in those situations where the use of a laptop computer may not be appropriate given the nature of a class session(s), the faculty member may refuse to allow students to use their laptops.