

Rowan University Learning Connections Inventory (LCI) Access Protocol

Rowan University is pleased that all students are part of a program to discover their personal learning patterns by taking the Learning Connections Inventory (LCI) via the Internet. This instrument will help students to learn more about who they are as learners and how this awareness can contribute to success in and out of the classroom.

Many of the instructors at Rowan will be using the terminology of the LCI to communicate strategies and procedures for academic success and to overcome academic challenges. You will learn more about the LCI in workshops and classes at Rowan.
