Rowan University business card editorial style standards and policy

I. Business cards may contain the following employee information:
   • Name
   • Academic and professional credentials, qualifications and affiliations
   • Title
   • Department or office
   • College or division
   • Rowan office telephone
   • Rowan office fax
   • Rowan e-mail
   • Rowan-hosted web page

II. All business cards must adhere to the following style standards:
   1. No courtesy titles (Dr., Mr., Mrs., Ms., Miss)
   2. Use working titles, not state titles (i.e., Program Coordinator, not program specialist II or Assistant Director, Facilities, not Assistant Supervisor 1, Trades)
   3. Credentials and affiliations may occupy up to nine characters after one’s name
   4. Use degree designations without periods (MS, MA, MFA, MBA, EdD, PhD, JD, etc.).
   5. List the highest degree earned without preceding degrees.
   6. Use affiliations and credentials without periods (APR, CPA, CPP, etc.)
   7. Use only descriptors that are relevant to one’s employment at the University (i.e., no military ranks, unrelated professional credentials, etc.)
   8. Members of the professional staff whose primary responsibility is academic advising may use the title “Academic Advisor” or “Graduate Program Advisor”
   9. Engineering faculty who chair a program may use “Chair” and their program name. Chairs in other colleges may use “Chair” and the department name.
   10. Only Rowan phone and fax numbers, Rowan-based e-mail addresses and Rowan-hosted web pages may be included on business cards. Personal contact information should be included on syllabi or other course-specific information distributed to students.

III. Business card policy for adjunct faculty
Because adjunct faculty generally serve the University on a limited basis, the University does not routinely provide business cards for them. However, if the nature of an adjunct’s assignment requires business cards, the adjunct must request the cards through the department chair, who will forward the request to the dean of the college.

If the dean approves the purchase, the order may be placed through the normal process initiated with the card order form and requisition.

If the dean approves the adjunct’s request but not the funds to purchase the card, the adjunct may purchase the cards personally by using the card order form and paying the University’s printer directly. In either case, the card must comply with Rowan graphic and editorial standards and must be produced by the University’s contracted vendor, Glassboro Printing.

The intent of the policy is threefold:
1. To limit the access of adjuncts to business cards so that those who teach temporarily or infrequently will not have cards that suggest a significant relationship with the University equivalent to tenured or tenure-track full-time or part-time faculty.
2. To maintain the graphic and editorial standards for business cards that provide an employee with consistent, legitimate identification with Rowan University.
3. To ensure the allocation of funds for business cards to those whose employment with the University requires cards.
Rowan University Business Card Order Form

University business cards print in brown and gold ink on white stock. All business cards will be sent by purchasing to be typeset and printed by a vendor on contract with the University. Purchasing will send you a proof for your approval. Work will not continue until you return the proof to Purchasing with approval or changes indicated. Please allow approximately two weeks for delivery of business cards.

The prices for cards are in effect for orders placed from May 2, 2005 to June 30, 2006. If you make changes to the proof you will be charged extra & delivery may be delayed. Provide your name, title, e-mail, phone & fax numbers. Business card standards are available from University Publications. From the lists below, please select the college or department you represent. Check all that apply.
