Department of Public Safety

Rowan University Public Safety provides state of the art services to the campus. The department has achieved accreditation through the Commission on the Accreditation of Law Enforcement Agencies (CALEA) which administers a rigorous accreditation process whereby law enforcement agencies must adhere to over 464 standards, codes and state-of-art practices. The department was the first university in New Jersey to receive this prestigious recognition and one of 50 in the nation. The Department consists of 91 employees and 22 student workers across four service sections: University Police & Student Programs, Security Patrols, Safety & Emergency Services, and the Office of Emergency Management.

University Police: Rowan police are armed commissioned police officers with full arrest powers. They are graduates of New Jersey Police Academies and undergo continuing training to upgrade their skills and abilities. They provide police services to the university community and work with area police departments to provide a safe living and learning environment. The Campus Police section provides patrol, investigative and crime prevention services. Our officers patrol the campus on foot, mountain bikes and cars equipped with computers and radio communication systems. Rowan has a written Memorandum of Understanding with the Glassboro Police Department which governs the relationship between Rowan and Glassboro Police. The two agencies work closely together, coordinating patrols, participating together on various investigations and sharing information.
Security Patrols: Security oversees a staff of officers and is responsible for various aspects for the campus. They are responsible for buildings and grounds security, special events planning, and parking control and enforcement. They also monitor the campus-wide emergency blue light phones.

Campus Safety and Emergency Services: The safety section is responsible for 24-hour dispatch center, emergency medical services, safety programs and education, HAZMAT response, fire safety, alarm systems, and emergency operations.

Office of Emergency Management: The Rowan University Board of Trustees authorized the Office of Emergency Management by resolution in December of 2007. The Board of Trustees also adopted the National Incident Management Systems (NIMS) and the Incident Command System (ICS) as their method of dealing with emergency situations.

Security and Access to Campus Facilities

To promote personal safety and the protection of property, campus facilities are secured after business hours according to established schedules set by Public Safety and the department controlling the location. Entry into secured areas requires written approval from the controlling department head and notification to the Public Safety Department. All members of the university community should carry their Rowan identification cards with them at all times, as they may be requested to present them by a university official or public safety officer.

The Department of Public Safety provides service to all campus residence and apartment complexes on a 24-hour basis. During the Fall and Spring semesters, the Student Patrol program provides additional services to resident facilities and grounds during the evening and night hours. Services include patrols to the housing complexes and personal safety walking escorts. These officers have the responsibility ensuring that exterior doors are kept locked and are not propped open. They do not enter individual rooms or apartments, except in the event of an emergency, a fire alarm, or when asked.

Campus residence facilities are restricted to residents and invited guests. Accordingly, the exterior doors of residence halls are kept locked and residents must use their assigned key to enter. Residents of apartment complexes are strongly encouraged to keep their exterior doors locked at all times. Anyone who is found attempting to override the security measures is subject to sanctions through the Campus Judicial System.

Residence halls have lights on the outside entrances and windows have locking devices. Some residence halls have security screens on the ground level windows. Every resident unit is equipped with a telephone by which Public Safety can be reached.

The Department of Public Safety works closely with the Facilities Department to maintain a safe environment. Members of the university community are encouraged to report lock problems, lighting problems, or other security concerns as soon as possible.

Reporting Criminal Activity or other Problems

For Police, Fire or Medical Emergencies dial 9-1-1

9-1-1 will connect you to the Gloucester County Emergency Response Center. The Rowan Public Safety Department has a direct link to County 911 and will be advised of your emergency.

Criminal activity and problems on campus can be reported directly to the Department of Public Safety by any student, employee or visitor, 24 hours a day, by dialing extension 4911 or 256-4911. For general business, dial 4922. Any campus public safety officer, crime prevention officer, or administrator within the Department may be contacted to receive a report of criminal activity. Reports can also be made in person at our office located in Bole Annex.

The campus also has 92 emergency blue light phones placed at strategic locations throughout the campus. For assistance, push the button, which will connect you to public safety communication center.

Upon receiving a report, a Campus Public Safety Officer is dispatched immediately to the site of the complaint. Arrests, if warranted, can be made by the campus police. Security officers can detain a suspected criminal under certain circumstances until police arrive. Reports of incidents are written and information may be shared with the Glassboro Police Department or other agencies. A Department Supervisor who coordinates follow-up investigations reviews all reports. Reports of stolen property, with serial numbers, are entered into the National Crime Information database in an effort to facilitate recovery.

Some individuals may wish to confidentially report a crime, ask a question, or explore what types of victim services are available to them. You can contact our communications center at extension 4922 and advise the dispatcher of your desire to speak with a police officer anonymously.
Policy Regarding Use of Alcohol/Drugs/Weapons

Rowan Public Safety officers enforce laws regulating underage drinking and the use or possession of alcohol, controlled substances and weapons. Violations of any of these laws may be processed both through the Campus Judicial System and the Municipal Court System in the Borough of Glassboro.

Purchase and/or consumption of alcoholic beverages by anyone under the age of 21 is a violation of New Jersey law. Alcoholic beverages are not permitted in residence halls or on campus grounds. Students over 21 who live in campus apartments should refer to the alcohol policy in the Student Handbook. The Glassboro Police Department and the Rowan Public Safety Department will sign municipal complaints against any person, regardless of age, carrying an open container of an alcoholic beverage in public areas.

Rowan fully endorses the mandates of the Drug-Free Campus provisions of the Higher Education Act. As with unauthorized alcohol possession or consumption, municipal complaints may be lodged against suspected violators of the drug laws. Violators will also be subject to the Campus Judicial System. Mandatory alcohol and drug abuse workshops for all new members of Greek societies are coordinated each year by the Dean of Students Office. Drug and alcohol abuse counseling is available in the Counseling Center. In addition, the Dean of Students Office sponsors a drug and alcohol awareness week each semester.

Firearms, dangerous weapons, or weapon replicas of any type are not permitted on campus. Anyone in the possession of such items is subject to criminal prosecution.

Special Information on the Prevention of Sexual Offenses

It is the policy of Rowan that no student or employee may threaten the health and safety of any member of the university community, of any person on the university campus, or at any university sponsored event, through the commission of a sexual offense. The university offers a variety of programs throughout the year designed to educate the campus about sexual offenses and direct victims to appropriate service, assistance and reporting options. The Dean of Students Office, the Counseling Center, Health Services and Residential Learning and University Housing offer programs throughout the year and are available to provide information and counseling. A special “Help Hotline” also operates each semester and can be reached during evening hours by calling 256-HELP. Trained students assist callers with counseling and referral services. The Department of Public Safety also offers educational programs and should be notified for legal reporting of criminal incidents. This is especially important for the collection and preservation of evidence for criminal court cases. Successful criminal prosecution depends heavily on proper evidence procedures.

Notification Procedures

In the event of a sexual offense, the university’s first concern is to ensure that the victim has the necessary support and assistance needed, and that the victim’s wishes concerning confidentiality are respected. Several options are available to victims. The university strongly recommends that a police agency be notified as soon as possible. A victim should notify the Department of Public Safety for offenses that occur on campus, or the Glassboro Police Department for offenses that occur off-campus.

The university encourages victims to contact any of the following departments, even if the report is a delayed one. Those departments include the Student Health Center, Counseling Center, Dean of Students Office, EOF Office and Residential Learning, Title IX Coordinator and University Housing. Professional staffers are available to lend assistance and service as required. These individuals can also help direct victims to other service agencies located within the community. Victims may use university services with or without filing a formal incident report; however, all of these individuals will gladly assist the victim through the police reporting process. A victim may also request the university to make an adjustment in their academic or living arrangements on campus. Assistance with such adjustments may be reasonably accommodated through the Dean of Students Office.

The Campus Judicial Process conducts hearings for cases involving sexual offenses. Both the accused and the accuser are entitled to due process. A written complaint filed by the accuser is the basis for the charge against the accused. During the judicial process, the accuser and the accused are entitled to have the same opportunities to have witnesses present, and to be advised of the outcome of the hearing. This information includes the final determination with respect to the alleged sexual offense and any sanctions imposed against the accused. Sanctions against the accused may include disciplinary action up to and including suspension or expulsion from the institution. University sanctions do not preclude the accuser from seeking off-campus adjudication through the criminal justice system.

Campus Sex Crimes Prevention Act (CSCPA)

The Disclosure of Education Records Concerning Registered Sex Offenders is permitted under FERPA (20 U.S.C. Sec 1232g); and the Wetterling Act (42 U.S.C. Sec. 14071). Interested persons can check the registered sex offenders’ files by accessing the New Jersey Sex Offender Registry operated by the New Jersey State Police. Address is as follows:

Emergency Preparedness

Rowan is committed to providing a safe and secure learning and working environment for its students and employees. Safety, however, is everyone’s responsibility. Please take a few moments to familiarize yourself with the website and the procedures we ask you to use during an emergency.

Emergency Contacts:

Fire, Safety and Health Emergencies:

- Call 911 from a campus phone to report a fire, safety or health emergency. Dialing 911 from a campus phone will connect the caller to the Gloucester County 911 radio room. Rowan Public Safety has a direct link to the radio room and will be advised of any call.

Power and Maintenance Emergencies:

- During normal business hours (8 a.m. – 4:00 p.m.), call Facilities Operations & Maintenance at ext. 4650 to report loss of power, leaks, broken windows, unsecured doors and any other maintenance emergency. After 4:00 p.m., call Public Safety at ext. 4911.

Rowan Alert

(Emergency Notification System for Students and Employees)

Quick and reliable communication is critical during a campus emergency. At Rowan, we rely on a number of ways to communicate to our students and employees, including email, voicemail, Internet and the media (i.e., radio, television and newspapers). The Virginia Tech tragedy, however, demonstrated that these modes are not enough. Universities must utilize the latest technologies to communicate to their constituents in minutes.

With that as a goal, Rowan encourages all of its students and employees to register with the Rowan Alert, the emergency notification system. Subscribers will receive instructions about weather related class cancellations and/or University emergencies on registered devices (i.e., cell phone, email, voicemail).

To subscribe, please visit http://www.rowan.edu/selfservice. It is important to note that although you can list 18 points of contact, the system will stop trying to send you messages as soon as you confirm receiving one of the messages. In other words, if you receive an alert message on your cell phone, and confirm that you received it when prompted; Rowan Alert will not call your other points of contact. However, if you do not answer your cell phone, Rowan Alert will call the next device.

In addition to subscribing to the Rowan Alert, you may want to register your cell phone with the Gloucester County alert system at www.gloucesteralert.com. Both programs are free and provide users information in a timely manner.

If you have any questions or concerns about the Rowan Alert, feel free to call the technology Support Desk at 856-256-4400.

Gloucester County invites Rowan to join its alert system

The Gloucester County Office of Emergency Response has invited all Rowan students and employees to register with its county-wide alert system. Messages sent will be Rowan and Glassboro specific, and include county-wide weather alerts.

To register, visit www.gloucesteralert.com.

Policy Regarding Timely Warnings

The University alerts the campus community regarding any crime that is reported to the campus security authorities or local police agencies and is considered to represent a serious or ongoing threat to students and employees. Any crime representing a serious or ongoing threat affecting the University campus is reported immediately by the attending Rowan University officer to the Assistant Vice President of Public Safety or his designee. In addition, serious crimes or ongoing threats affecting members of the University community that occur outside the jurisdiction of Rowan Police are also reported to the department through the Assistant Vice President of Public Safety or his designee, which may sometimes delay the reporting.
Sometimes, the substance of the timely warning is carefully determined: If the information is known, and if the inclusion of such information would not compromise law enforcement efforts, timely warnings include a description of the crime, its location, and injuries, if any, to the victim. In addition, the warnings generally include safety information, a request for any information about the incident, and a reminder to report crimes or concerns about potential crime to Rowan University Public Safety. Finally, there is follow up: The Assistant Vice President of Public Safety and his staff monitor all replies to these "timely warning" emails and respond as appropriate.

Rowan Studies Its Emergency Preparedness Plans

Rowan University's emergency response plan was last thoroughly scrutinized and updated in 2012. Aspects of the plan, however, are always being reviewed and updated as events and experiences test University policies and procedures. Below is a summary of Rowan's state-of-emergency preparedness.

Emergency Response Plan

A group of emergency response planners maintain and regularly update a comprehensive handbook that lists protocols on how to and who should respond in a variety of situations, including:

- Loss of life
- Aggravated assault
- Terrorist threats (gunman, hostage)
- Bomb threat
- Campus/building closing (weather, utility failure, hazardous material spill, etc.)

Emergency Response Team

A core group of University employees regularly review and participate in emergency planning exercises. Depending on the level of emergency, personnel from the following areas are trained to respond:

- Public Safety
- President's Office
- Cabinet
- Student Affairs/Residence Life
- Counseling & Psychological Services*
- Health Center
- Facilities (Administration & Finance)

* Counseling & Psychological Services oversees the training and mobilization of the Critical Incident Response Team, a group of 12 nationally certified counselors—Rowan staff and faculty—who can provide services night or day.

Responding to an Emergency

Most emergencies will be reported to the 911 county-operated center. The operator will dispatch a Rowan vehicle to the scene to assess the situation. If the dispatcher deems the situation as being critical, he or she will request that surrounding municipal police departments assist Rowan's police. If the situation is severe enough, the dispatcher will mobilize the county emergency response team, which will arrive on campus and establish an onsite unified command center.

Rowan responders will work with the command center personnel to provide assistance and guidance on how to work in a higher education environment. Rowan will hold a series of information sessions and post updates throughout and after an emergency.

Emergency Response Plan Review

The core group of the Emergency Response Team is reviewing and updating the Emergency Response Plan periodically. The committee will seek feedback as it introduces new policies and procedures when necessary. If you would like to offer your thoughts on Rowan's plans, feel free to call Reed Layton, Senior Director of Public Safety And Police Services, at 856-256-4506.

For more information

Crime Prevention

Rowan University's Department of Public Safety is committed to the concept of Crime Prevention. The department employs a departmental involvement philosophy toward our crime prevention programs.

The Crime Prevention Section's objective is to communicate safety and security concepts throughout the campus community. Using in-person presentations as well as printed materials, Crime Prevention educates students and staff in the following areas: The Crime Prevention Triangle, Crime Prevention Through Environmental Design, Using our Emergency/Assistance Phones, Car and Bike Security, Date Rape/Sexual Assault Prevention, Rape Aggression Defense training, as well as other timely issues in public safety.

A few simple precautions or a bit of knowledge might be the difference in a student or staff member becoming a victim of a crime. Our job is to educate the campus community of these concepts and reinforce them once everyone is educated. We also attempt to locate problem areas or situations, i.e. lighting, unsecured equipment, etc. Your safety and security is of our utmost concern.

Our Crime Prevention section encourages involvement in campus safety issues. Students, staff, parents and prospective students may feel free to call Lieutenant Tom Flail with any questions or concerns at (856) 256-4922 or email him at Flail@Rowan.Edu.

Bike Patrol

- The Rowan University Bike Patrol Unit is comprised of thirteen officers.
- The officers are a mixture of security officers and police officers.
- The Bike Patrol Unit operates twenty-four hours a day seven days a week, weather permitting. These officers perform the same duties as other uniformed officers on campus however; they are able to navigate more easily throughout the campus.
- The benefits of having the bike unit on campus is that it promotes high visibility of the officers, which enables the campus community to feel safer while moving about the campus. It also makes the officer more approachable by the students and faculty in a time of need and it allows the officer to interact more easily with the community. The bike patrol officers are able to conduct routine patrol functions and they are able to perform... numerous other functions that a patrol officer in a vehicle would not be able to complete.

- The Rowan University Bike Patrol Unit welcomes interactions with the Rowan University Community so please do not hesitate to approach a bike officer and ask questions.
- Please feel free to contact the bike patrol supervisor Patrolman Ryan Hoffman with any questions about our bike patrol.

Rape Aggression Defense

Basic Physical Defense

What is R.A.D.?

The Rape Aggression Defense System is a program of realistic, self-defense tactics and techniques. It is a comprehensive course for women that begins with awareness, prevention, risk reduction and avoidance, while progressing on to the basics of hands-on defense training. R.A.D. is not a martial arts program. Our courses are taught by certified R.A.D. instructors and provide you with a workbook/reference manual. This manual outlines the entire physical defense program for reference and continuous personal growth. The R.A.D. System of Physical Defense is currently being taught at many colleges and universities. The growing, widespread acceptance of this system is primarily due to the ease, simplicity and effectiveness of our tactics, solid research, and unique teaching methodology.

The R.A.D. Systems is dedicated to teaching women defensive concepts and techniques against various types of assault, by utilizing easy, effective and proven self-defense tactics. Our system of realistic defense will provide a woman with the knowledge to make an educated decision about resistance.

R.A.D. OBJECTIVE

"To develop and enhance the options of self defense, so they may become viable considerations to the woman who is attacked."

- Somewhere in America, a woman is sexually assaulted every 2 minutes, according to the U.S. Department of Justice.
- Approximately 68% of rape victims knew their assailant. [Violence against Women. Bureau of Justice Statistics, U.S. Dept. of Justice, 1994]

Safety and survival in today’s world requires a definite course of action. We provide effective options by teaching women to take an active role in their own self-defense and psychological well being.

R.A.D. Course Description

12 hr. Basic Physical Defense class:

Session 1

Utilizing the R.A.D. student manual, students will be involved in a discussion of risk reduction strategies, date rape, continuum of survival, defensive strategies and the basic principles of defense. We also discuss the pros and cons of defensive weaponry, how to develop a defensive mindset, understanding offensive and defensive postures, recognizing vulnerable locations and utilizing personal weapons.

Session 2
Participating students will begin the process of hands on training. The techniques utilized by R.A.D. Systems are based on simple gross motor skills and are developed to the point that they become instinctual through repetition. Students will have the opportunity to use these techniques in dynamic impact training by striking padded equipment held by the instructors. All techniques target a single attacker.

Session 3
Participating students will continue to refine the skills previously learned with "practice, practice and practice."

Session 4
Students will then participate in "simulated assault" scenarios with R.A.D. instructors, who along with participants, wear state-of-the-art protective gear specifically designed for this training. Women have the opportunity to utilize their skills in a safe training environment.

From our initial point of contact with a victim, through the final disposition of their case, we will make every effort to ensure that victims and witnesses are treated with dignity and compassion.

K-9 Unit
Rowan University is committed in providing it's students, faculty and guests with different professional Police services. Recently the University has started a Police K-9 unit. The unit consists of two fully certified Police K-9 handlers and two certified K-9's. The two German Shepherds are both trained in explosive detection and crossed trained in patrol work. Both K-9's are capable of detecting over 20 explosive compounds and can also perform valuable services such as article(s) retrieval, tracking lost person(s) or suspect(s) and can perform building searches to locate hidden suspects. Both dogs are also trained in criminal apprehension.
Training involved with this assignment is constant and entails 100's of hours to obtain certification. The University is better prepared for events and incidents because of having such a special detail and the University community will benefit from having such services.

A BRIEF HISTORY OF CAMPUS CRIME REPORTING

In 1990, Congress authorized the Crime Awareness and Campus Security Act. This act required all colleges and universities to disclose campus crime statistics and other public safety and security information. In 1998, the act was renamed to the “Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act” in memory of a student who was slain in her dorm room in 1986. In essence the act requires the colleges and universities to collect, report and disseminate crime information to the campus community with the goal of maintaining a safe environment for students to learn, faculty to teach and for staff and administrators to work by increasing the awareness of crimes committed on campus. It is intended to provide students and their families as consumers of higher education with accurate, complete and timely information so that informed decisions can be made. In August, 2008, additional revisions and regulations were enacted under the title of the Higher Education Opportunity Act or HEOA. These include fire safety reporting, missing person procedures, hate crime reporting and emergency response and evacuation procedures. All of the new and revised requirements are being met or exceeded by the University.

The Rowan University Police Department, in conjunction with the Office of the Vice President for Student Affairs, the Office of the Dean of Students and the Office of Housing and Residential Life, share the responsibility for this report at Rowan University.

THE CLERY ACT

The Rowan University Police Department submits Uniform Crime Reports (UCR) monthly to the New Jersey State Police, Uniform Crime Reporting Unit. These reports as well as reports received from other campus divisions and offices are the means by which we gather our crime statistics for Clery Act compliance.

Public Safety maintains written as well as a website of the daily crime log that records all crimes that occur on campus, in a non-campus building or property, or on certain public property within the patrol jurisdiction of the campus police/security and are reported to public safety. A crime log records incidents by the date they are reported. The log includes the nature, date, time, general location and disposition of each offense. The crime log is available at https://www.rowan.edu/pubsafety/information/crime_log/

Daily Crime and Fire Log

The Public Safety Department maintains a combined Daily Crime and Fire Log of all incidents reported to the Public Safety Department. This includes all crimes, fire-related incidents and other serious incidents that occur on campus, including areas patrolled by the University Police and the non-campus buildings or properties, on public property or within the Borough of Glassboro.

The Daily Crime and Fire Log includes the incident type, date incident is reported, date and time of occurrence, and general location of each reported incident type, as well as the disposition of the incident, if this information is known. The Public Safety Department posts specific incidents in the Daily Crime and Fire Log within two (2) business days of receiving a report of an incident and reserves the right to exclude reports from a log, in certain circumstances, as permitted by law.

The Crime Log and Fire Log are available for public inspection online at: Crime Log: https://www.rowan.edu/pubsafety/information/crime_log/

Fire Log: https://www.rowan.edu/pubsafety/information/fire_log/

The Public Safety Department also submits the Daily Crime and Fire Log to “The Whit” to be published weekly.

Annual Fire Safety Report

The Higher Education Opportunity Act (HEOA) requires two (2) new safety-related requirements by institutions which participate in federal student financial aid programs:

1. Fire Log: Institutions must keep a fire log that states the nature of the fire, date, time, and general location of each fire in on-campus student housing facilities. Rowan University complies with this rule by including all fire-related incidents in the Daily Crime and Fire Log. To view the most recent seven (7) days of information please visit the DPS website for daily crime and fire-related incidents at: https://www.rowan.edu/pubsafety/information/fire_log/

2. Annual Fire Safety Report: Institutions with on-campus student housing facilities must publish annually a fire safety report that provides information on campus fire safety practices and standards. Rowan University complies with this regulation by including all fire-related incidents at on-campus student housing facilities as part of the Annual Security & Fire Safety Report. Information contained in this annual fire safety combined report includes: The number and cause of fires at all on-campus buildings which include all student housing facilities; number of fire-related deaths; related injuries; value of fire-related property damage; information on evacuation procedures; fire safety education and training programs; fire safety systems in each student housing facility; number of regular mandatory supervised fire drills; and policies on portable electrical appliance, smoking and open flames. The Annual Security & Fire Safety Report must include three (3) years of data.

If a fire occurs in any building, community members should immediately notify the Gloucester County Emergency Response Center for the fire department by dialing 9-1-1; and if they can do so safely, Rowan’s Department of Public Safety (856) 256-4911 from a land line or from any cell phone. Public Safety will coordinate a response. Rowan has a direct dial phone line to the Glassboro Fire Department and Gloucester County Emergency Response Center and can communicate with the fire department quickly.

If a member of the Rowan community finds evidence of a fire that has been extinguished, and the person is not sure whether Public Safety has already responded, the community member should immediately notify Rowan’s Public Safety Department (856) 256-4911 from a landline or from any cell phone to investigate and document the incident.

The building’s fire alarm system will activate in the event of an actual fire inside a campus building. Community members are required to heed an activated fire alarm system, and evacuate a building immediately. Use the nearest available exit to evacuate the building. Gather outside at either the primary or the secondary pre-designated area; this will ensure that all the occupants of the building are accounted for. Each member of the Rowan University community should familiarize themselves with the exits in each building.

When a fire alarm is activated, the elevators should not be used to evacuate the building. Use the stairs to safely evacuate the building. If you are caught in the elevator, push the emergency phone button. The emergency phones in each elevator connect directly to the Communications officer in the Public Safety Communication Center.
Fire Protection Equipment/Systems

All Rowan University buildings are equipped with automatic fire detection and alarm systems which are monitored 24 hours a day 365 days a year. All residential buildings are equipped with fire sprinkler systems.

Health and Safety Inspections

The Resident Life & University Housing staff performs residential inspections throughout the semester. Residents are notified beforehand of the inspection process. The inspections are conducted to identify safety violations as well as conditions, which may be detrimental to the health or well-being of the University community.

These inspections include a visual examination of electrical cords, placement of televisions and other electronic equipment. In addition, each room is examined for the presence of prohibited items such as candles, halogen lamps, unauthorized cooking appliances, pets, etc. Rooms are also examined for prohibited activity such as removal of door closers, unauthorized door locking or alarm mechanisms, removal of security screens or other equipment, tampering with fire or life safety equipment, etc. This inspection also includes a general assessment of cleanliness of the room, including food and waste storage.

Fire Definitions

Fire: Rapid oxidation of combustible material accompanied by heat, light and smoke of combustible material, which is found outside of its normal appliance, whether or not it is extinguished prior to arrival of emergency response personnel.

Fire-related Deaths: Number of persons who were fatalities because of a fire incident, including death resulting from a natural or accidental cause while involved in fire control, attempting a rescue, or persons escaping from the fire scene (an individual who dies within one (1) year of injuries sustained as a result of a fire).

Fire-related Injuries: Number of persons receiving injuries from fire-related incidents, including an injury from a natural or accidental cause who received medical treatment at a local medical facility. This includes first responders attempting to control the fire, attempting a rescue, or persons escaping from the fire scene. Persons may include students, faculty, staff, visitors, firefighters, or any other individuals.

Estimated U.S. Dollar Loss Related to Fire Incidents: Estimated total U.S. dollar loss of both contents and structure or property destroyed because of a fire incident, not loss of business.

Evacuation Procedures Posted: When a fire alarm is activated, evacuation is mandatory. DO NOT use elevators; evacuate the building using the nearest available exit and proceed to the pre-designated area to begin an accountability and assessment process.

Fire Alarms Monitored: Fire alarms are monitored 24 hours a day, seven days a week, 52 weeks a year for the Public Safety Department by off-site central station.

Fire Safety Training Programs Delivered: Number of training programs delivered by Fire Prevention and Safety Officer or other responsible persons of authority within the University to occupants of residence halls, concerning fire prevention and preparedness.

Buildings Equipped with Fire Alarm Systems and Smoke Detectors: Buildings that have functional fire alarm systems and smoke detectors installed. Please note, all residence halls are equipped with a functional fire alarm system and smoke detectors.

Buildings Protected with Automatic Sprinkler System Throughout: Indicates an automatic sprinkler system protects all areas of a building. Please note all residence halls are equipped with sprinkler systems throughout. All residence halls are equipped with a functional fire alarm system and smoke detectors.

Emergency Evacuation Drills (formerly known as Fire Drills): The number of supervised scheduled drills or actual events at campus residence halls that are facilitated and certified by the Public Safety, for the New Jersey Division of Fire Safety in cooperation with assigned University building personnel. Drills are conducted throughout the year to familiarize students, faculty and staff with emergency procedures and individual roles.
Fire Policies for On-Campus Student Housing Facilities

1. Portable Electrical Appliances: Hot plates, halogen lamps, immersion coils, air conditioners, freezers, dishwashers, washing machines, and open-coil appliances are prohibited in University residences as they pose a threat of electrical overload and/or fire.

Space heaters may only be used when installed by Facilities Department or the Student Housing Department.

Microwave ovens of 700 watts or less, computers, stereos, televisions, radio, electric irons with safety cutoffs, non-commercial hairdryers, and other similar appliances are permitted, unless specifically prohibited by the residence staff. All appliances must have a manufacture’s label that shows the electrical rating and listing by a nationally recognized testing laboratory (NRTL) such as FM Approvals LLC (FM), Intertek Testing Services NA, Inc. (ITSNA) (formerly ETL) MET Laboratories, Inc. or Underwriters Laboratories Inc. (UL).

We strongly recommend the use of surge protector(s). Extension cords are prohibited in all University housing facilities.

Caution should be taken to prevent fire hazards resulting from excessive use of appliances and over-dependency on power strips.

Lamps: A Special Safety Advisory – The use of halogen lamps is prohibited.

- Carefully read all safety instructions and warnings that accompany any lamp.
- Never use bulbs of a higher wattage or of a different style than is recommended by the manufacture’s instruction.
- Never remove or discard a bulb that is hot to the touch; don’t try to operate a lamp that has damaged or missing parts.
- Do not place lamps near clothing, draperies, or bedding, as incidental contact with the lamp bulb could ignite the material. Keep lamps away from windows, bunk beds and closets.
- NEVER place material such as towels or clothing on top of lamps.
- Avoid placing lamps in locations where they may be knocked over.
- Always remember to turn off or unplug any lamp when changing bulbs or when leaving your room/apartment.
- Taking proper precautions and guarding against potential hazards posed by lamps will help ensure community safety.

2. Smoking: Smoking, including hookahs and other smoking paraphernalia, is prohibited in all residential building, and outdoors within 50 feet.

3. Open Flames: Fire or smoke producing articles, such as Bunsen burners, portable stoves, kerosene lamps, cut trees, incense and candles are prohibited in residence. Possession of potpourri burning units or other fire-starting devices/substances is prohibited in residences, as is their use in residential areas or adjacent outdoor space without staff supervision. Additionally BBQ grills, etc are prohibited unless prior approval is granted by the Safety Services Office.

Dispelling Domestic Violence Myths

Domestic Violence only happens between married couples or people that live together.

False. Domestic Violence can occur between college roommates, people in heterosexual dating relationships, people in homosexual dating relationships, and between people that were previously in a dating relationship. DV can also occur between two people that have a child in common or are expecting a child in common.

Domestic Violence is limited to physical abuse.

False. Domestic violence can be anything that makes you feel threatened, scared, or unsafe. It can include physical violence, emotional abuse, isolation, economic abuse, intimidation, and coercion and threats.

Victims of Domestic Violence are always females.

False. Males have the same rights under the Prevention of Domestic Violence Act that females do. Males can be victimized by their female spouse or girlfriend, by a same sex partner, or by their college roommate. Instances of DV in which the victim was a male are often under reported, but are still taken very seriously by all police departments.

Domestic Violence FAQs

What is the legal definition of Domestic Violence?

Domestic violence means the occurrence of one or more of the following criminal offenses upon a person protected under the Prevention of Domestic Violence Act:

- Homicide
- Assault
- Terroristic threats
- Kidnapping
- Criminal Restraint
- False imprisonment
- Sexual assault
- Lewdness
- Criminal sexual contact

- Your spouse
- Your former spouse
- Someone that you are dating
- Someone that you were previously dating
- A present household member (this includes college roommates)
- A former household member
- Someone with whom you have a child in common

The person committing the act of domestic violence must also be over the age of 18, or legally emancipated.

What are my rights as a victim of domestic violence?

As a victim of Domestic Violence, you are entitled to all of the rights listed in the NJ Victim’s Bill of Rights. The Victim’s Bill of Rights can be found on the Rowan Victim Witness Services homepage.

As a DV victim, you also have the right to apply for a Temporary Restraining Order at any time, and the right to file criminal complaints against your abuser.

Should I call the police if I am experiencing domestic violence?

YES! The Rowan Police Department takes Domestic Violence very seriously. Our officers will respond immediately to any call regarding Domestic Violence; it is the primary duty of our responding officers to enforce the law and to protect the victim in any DV situation.
When the police come, will anyone be arrested?

Under the Prevention of Domestic Violence Act, the police must arrest the person that you state perpetrated the acts of domestic violence against you if any of the following conditions apply:

1. You exhibit any signs of injury or have a complaint of pain
2. The perpetrator has violated or is in violation of a current restraining order
3. There is probable cause that a weapon was involved in the commission of the act of DV
4. There is a warrant for the perpetrator’s arrest on any other charge

Can I call the police even if the act of Domestic Violence occurred several days or weeks ago?

If the act of domestic violence occurred in another jurisdiction, can I still make a report at the Rowan Police Department?

As a victim of Domestic Violence, it is your right to file a police report in any of the following locations:

1. In the jurisdiction where the act of DV occurred
2. In the jurisdiction where the defendant resides
3. In the jurisdiction where the victim resides or is sheltered – this means if you are a Rowan student, living on campus, you can make a report with the Rowan Police (even if the act of DV was committed somewhere else)

What is a Restraining Order?

There are two different types of restraining orders – Temporary Restraining Orders (TRO) and Final Restraining Orders (FRO). Both types of restraining orders are legally enforceable documents that prohibit your abuser from having contact with you. When a restraining order of any type is in effect, your abuser cannot see you, or contact you in any way. If your abuser violates the restraining order, he or she will be arrested.

A TRO is just what it sounds like – temporary. A victim of domestic violence can apply for this type of restraining order at any time. If granted, the TRO will remain in effect until a scheduled hearing with a Family Court judge. At this hearing you will explain to the judge why you filed for a TRO, and the judge will decide whether or not you need a Final Restraining Order. Your abuser will also be at the FRO hearing and will have a chance to give his/her side of the story to the judge. If the judge grants a FRO, that order will remain in effect permanently (unless you choose to have the order dismissed).

How can I get a Temporary Restraining Order (TRO)?

There are two ways to apply for a TRO. On Monday through Friday between the hours of 8:30am – 3:30pm, you can go directly to the Family Court for your county. Since Rowan University is in Gloucester County, our Family Court is located in Woodbury at the following address:

2 South Broad Street
Woodbury, NJ 08096
(856) 686-7410

Once you arrive at the courthouse, tell a court employee that you are there to apply for a TRO. They will give you papers to fill out and provide assistance to you. If you are not comfortable going to the courthouse by yourself, or if you are confused about the process, contact the Rowan Police Department at (856) 256-4922. A Rowan police officer will assist you in filing for a TRO.

If you wish to apply for a TRO at anytime other than regular business hours, contact the Rowan Police Department. An officer will assist you in applying for a TRO over the phone. The officer will take a statement from you regarding the incident of domestic violence that prompted you to apply for the TRO. The officer will then contact a Municipal Court Judge via phone. The judge will speak to you briefly on the phone, and will then make a determination of whether or not to grant your TRO.

When your TRO is granted, you will be given a court date to appear before a judge in Family Court. At the Family Court hearing, the judge will determine whether or not to grant a Final Restraining Order.

When I go to court for my Final Restraining Order hearing, what should I bring with me?
When you go to court to seek a Final Restraining Order, bring a copy of any police reports pertaining to Domestic Violence between you and your abuser. If you have photographs of injuries that you sustained due to physical abuse, bring the photographs with you. If there were any witnesses to the abuse, they may accompany you to court as well. If you would like a police officer to accompany you to court, contact the Rowan Police Department at (856) 256-4922 and speak with Ptl. Rachel Baum.

When I go to court for my Final Restraining Order, do I have to testify?

Yes. At the final hearing you will need to tell the judge what your abuser did to you that caused you to file for a TRO. You will also have a chance to tell the judge if there have been previous incidents of Domestic Violence between you and your abuser.

Will I have to see my abuser at the Final Restraining Order hearing?

Your abuser will be at the FRO hearing, and he will also have to testify in front of the judge. There will be protection for you in the courthouse and the courtroom. If you are fearful because your abuser is there, tell the court officer. If you need an escort out of the courthouse because you are afraid of the defendant, ask the court officer to get a sheriff’s officer to escort you. If you would like a Rowan Police officer to accompany you to court, contact the Rowan Police Department at (856) 256-4922 and speak with Ptl. Rachel Baum.

What do I do if I want to drop my Temporary Restraining Order?

If you want to drop your TRO, you still must go to court on your scheduled date. You will be asked your reasons for wanting to dismiss the complaint. The judge will want to know that you are doing this without threats or pressure from someone else. If the judge is convinced that this is your own decision, the TRO will be dismissed.

If your abuser, or anyone acting on behalf of your abuser, is pressuring you to drop your TRO it is extremely important for you to contact the police immediately!!

If I have a Restraining Order in effect that was issued in another state, does it still protect me in New Jersey?

Yes. An out of state restraining order is valid in New Jersey as long as it meets the following criteria:

1. Written order must contain your name and your abuser’s name
2. Order must not be expired
3. The defendant either appeared in court or was given notice to appear in court

If you are a Rowan student or staff member and you have an existing out of state restraining order, contact the Rowan Police Department and make us aware of the order. It is a good idea to submit a copy of your order with our department so that we can keep it on file. You should also keep a copy of your order with you at all times.
